ALLEGED DRAFT EVADER TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Ed Weber Arrested by Local Police on Charge of Failing to Register—Investigation Before Exemption Board to Be Held Today.

Ed Weber, who lives in the West End of the city, was placed under arrest yesterday afternoon by the local police and lodged in jail on a charge of draft evasion pending further investigation today by the Mason County Exemption Board.

It became known several days ago that although Weber was twenty-one years of age he had not registered in either of the two military registrations but the police say he has been hiding about trying to escape apprehension. Yesterday, however, the police ran across him and he was immediately taken into custody.

Weber protests that he is not old enough for military service but the officials have learned his correct age from a life insurance policy which was issued in 1902 and in which he was then said to be five years of age, establishing the fact that he is now over twenty-one years of age.

It is not known this morning just what turn the case will take. Weber may be forced to register and allowed to go into immediate military service or he may be forced to register and his having evaded the draft reported to the army officials for court martial trial as has been provided under a recent army order and a recent ruling of the office of the Provost Marshal General.

Weber has been a resident of Maysville for many years and was a rather quiet sort of a boy. It had been suspected for several weeks, however, that he was evading the draft but the investigation was made only a few days ago.

He will be taken by the police tomorrow to the Mason County Exemption Board today for a thorough investigation and for determination as to what further steps to take in his case.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben P. Fleming and children, Geneva and Alma Tully, of Lee street are spending a few days with Mrs. Fleming's parents at the country.

175 DROWN WHEN EXCURSION BOAT SINKS IN RIVER

ILLINOIS STEAMER GOES ASHORE
IN FOG AND GREAT PANIC FOLLOWS IN WHICH MANY DIE.

Peoria, Ill., July 6.—Hundreds of people are believed to have been drowned when the excursion steamer Columbia overturned in the Illinois river five miles south of here tonight.
All available nurses and physicians have been summoned from Pekin, Ill., which is near the scene of the accident.

The boat jammed against the Peoria dike of the river in a fog and tore a huge hole in the bow of the boat. It sank almost immediately.

Dozens of doctors and nurses from this city have been summoned to the scene of the sinking.

There were 150 excursionists on board the boat when it left Al Presco Park, Peoria, on the return trip to Pekin. The boat ran into the Peoria shore during the fog that was prevailing. It backed away, and began sliding immediately, water rushing in through a large hole in the bow. The boat instantly began sending out signals, a fullness and several water craft from this city rushed to the scene of the accident.

Loss of life is said to have resulted largely from the panic that followed immediately on the boat as it began to sink. Doctors and nurses were rushing to the scene from Peoria. Some of the survivors have been taken to Pekin on a relief train.

FATHER OF LOCAL WOMAN DIES

Mr. S. Lawrence, aged 79 years, of Fleming county, died at his home
Thursday following a long illness.
Mr. Lawrence was the father of Mrs.
George W. Royce, of East Second street, who has the sympathy of the entire community. Funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Six men from Mason county will report at Camp Buell, Lexington, on July 15 for a special technical course.

Today is the last day for discount on June gas bills.

SCHAEFFER RESIGNS AND LEAVES CITY WHEN REQUESTED

Superintendent of Water Company
Charged With Making Seditions
Remarks Asked to Quit Job
And Leave Town.

August Schaeffer, for many years superintendent of the Maysville Water Company, resigned his position yesterday at the request of the company and upon their advice left the city on the next train for Covington to join his family there.

Schaeffer is a native of Germany but a naturalized citizen of the United States. Before the United States entered the war he was open in his denunciation of our present allies and even openly denounced President Wilson and other high American officials.
Since the United States entered the war, however, he has not been so open in his criticism of the nation and his head but many rumors have been spread about the city at different times that he had been continuing in his seditious talk against our government and our allies. On several occasions feeling ran very high among the patriotic citizens of our city and when the report was circulated that many officials called Schaeffer before could poison all of the citizens of Maysville in a very short time if he so desired, the entire city was indignant. At this time the Water Company officials called Schaeffer before them and instructed him that he must not make such remarks or give any one reason for starting such reports.
He at that time denied very vigorously that he had at any time made such a statement.

Some months afterward another report was circulated that Schaeffer had made some seditious remark and feeling ran so very high among the people of the community that he was called before the local Federal authorities. He again denied making the remark but the officials suggested that he make a public statement of his loyalty to the United States and his officials. He then made a statement which was published in the local press in which he denied having made any disloyal utterances since the United States entered war with the German government. In this long statement he told of his having left Germany to escape military oppression and renewed again his loyalty to this government pledged when he became a citizen of our country.

A few days ago, it is reported, Schaeffer entered a local manufacturing plant and inquired of a workman what wages he was receiving. After being told he is alleged to have replied that the trouble with the American nation was that it was getting rich off the war with Germany and that the poor laboring man was not receiving his full share of those millions of dollars coming to our country because of the war.

This report spread like wildfire over the city and great indignation was expressed. Suggestion was made that a Patriotic League of Maysville citizens be formed to visit Schaeffer and instruct him that Maysville did not desire him as a citizen longer if he persisted in making such remarks about our government as could be construed to be unpatriotic.

Yesterday morning local Federal officials called on President Pearce, of the Maysville Water Company, who happened to be in the city, and told him of the plans that had been suggested by citizens and urged upon Mr.
Pearce that Schaeffer be discharged and instructed to leave the city before the patience of the people was worn threadbare and the indignation of the people took some form of demonstration.

President Pearce sent immediately for Schaeffer and told him that his resignation was desired. The resignation was offered immediately and accepted. He was then advised to leave the city as soon as possible and he left on the first C. & O. train for Covington where his family now resides.

Schaeffer was an expert engineer and one of the best water works men in the country. He had lived here for many years and had raised a family here. Many friends he had made prior to the war but his talk even before the United States entered the war had made him many bitter enemies and the reports of his remarks alleged to have been made underhanded and by insinuation since our nation has entered the war made him probably the most unpopular citizen in Maysville.

Schaeffer denied his guilt to the very last but the reports were becoming so frequent and the unrest of the people so great because of his position as head of the water company which served the entire city and his ability to do so much damage if he so desired that his employers thought best to take the steps they did take.

HUN SUBMARINE SINKS AMERICAN TRANSPORT

Troop Ship on Homeward Voyage Is Sunk By U-Boat—Six Members of Crew Missing But All Others Saved.

Washington, July 6.—The American army transport Covington, homeward bound after landing several hundred soldiers in France, was torpedoed and sunk in the war zone last Monday night. Six members of the crew are missing but all the other men, with the ship's officers, have been landed at a French port. No army personnel or passenger list were aboard.
The Covington formerly was the Hamburg American liner Cincinnati, which was laid up at Boston and taken over when the United States entered the war. She was 608 feet long, of 16,339 gross tonnage and had a speed of 15½ knots an hour.

The Covington was the second of the great German liners seized at the outbreak of the war to be sent down by Germany's sea wolves and is the third American troop ship to be destroyed. All were homeward bound.
The former Hamburg American liners President Lincoln was sunk last May 31, and the Antilles, formerly a Morgan liner, was sent down last October 17.

The Navy Department's announcement tonight of the torpedoing of the Covington said none of the officers and men landed was "seriously injured", but the number probably was not given in Vice Admiral Sims' despatch.

The Covington was struck at 9:17 o'clock Monday night, while proceeding with a fleet of other transports, convoys by destroyers. The submarine was not sighted. The transport remained afloat until Tuesday when efforts were made by another vessel and two tugs to tow her to port, but she was too badly damaged to keep afloat.

"The torpedo struck just forward of the engine room bulkhead," said the Navy Department's announcement,
"and the engine room and fire room were rapidly flooded. With its motive power gone, the vessel was helpless, and, facing the possibility of tor-pedoing of another ship in the envoy, the Covington was temporarily abandoned. This was done in excellent order and the officers and crew were taken on board a destroyer. The submarine was not seen."

"At daybreak, the captain, several officers and a number of members of the crew returned to supervise salvaging operations. Another vessel and two tugs took the Covington in tow in the effort to get her to port, but she was too badly damaged to keep afloat and sank."

"Vessels have been searching for the missing men and the Navy Department is awaiting the report of the name of those missing, which was not received until today, before announcing the sinking of the vessel."

There was no explanation by the Department as to whether the six men were missing after the transfer of the crew from the torpedoed ship to the destroyer or after the transport actually went down. It was feared, however, that they either were killed by the force of the explosion, or were caught by the rush of water into the engine and fire rooms.

Private Grover Buchanan, of Camp Wheeler, is spending a few days with friends here. Private Buckhannon for some time was chief machinist at the Maysville Cotton Mills.

ALLIES MAY NOW TAKE THE OFFENSIVE

Increasing Man Power and Control of Air Allow General Foch to Develop New Phase.

Washington, July 6.—Increasing man-power and rapidly extending control of the air have permitted the adoption of a new policy by General Foch, supreme commander of the Allied armies on the western front. In the opinion of many observers here they believe the sequence of hard local blows that have been struck recently by French, American, British and Italian troops show that a new phase of the great battle is developing, which might expand into a major operation on any part of the front where situation was found favorable.

Reports of the recent highly successful strokes at the German lines are taken here to indicate that General Foch no longer feels under the urgent necessity of keeping rigidly on the defensive in order to conserve his forces for the expected renewal of the German offensive. The fact that the Germans have been completely surprised and overwhelmed by several of the local counter operations is believed due to the work of the Allied airmen.

In both cases American aid has already served to change the tide of the fighting. The arrival of American troops by the hundreds of thousands has enabled General Foch to begin harrassing the enemy all along the line, while the increasing number of American pilots makes possible concentrations of air forces that sweep enemy scouts out of the sky in the sections selected for limited drives.

It is assumed here that General Foch now plans to give the enemy no rest. Points of vantage held by him which would be of value as the starting place for a new major thrust are being recaptured all along the line.
The effect is to embarrass German preparations.

Mrs. George C. Fleming and daughter, Elizabeth, of East Second street, are spending two weeks at Cincinnati, Ohio, and Covington, Newport, Ky., with relatives and friends.

ANOTHER "WORK OR FIGHT" ORDER NEEDED

The country is in a mood to accept another "work or fight" order from General Crowder that will be much more drastic than the one soon to be put in operation. There is plenty of evidence that a great many slackers of draft age will not be reached by the order that will not be reached by the order that went into effect on July 1. These men are engaged in essential industries, to be sure, but they are not working anything like full time. In many instances they are working only three or four days each week, when there is enough work to keep them busy the full six.

For instance, it is reported that in a southern coal district hundreds of young married men who have secured exemption on occupational grounds are idle approximately one-third of the time. The work is there to do, but since they receive high wages they feel that the yarn afford to loaf two or three days each week. It matters not to them that war industries are crying for coal, and that millions of American homes are threatened with another fuel famine next winter.

This spectacle is not one to delight the hearts of those patriotic Americans who toll long hours six or seven days each week in order to help their country win the war. It is particularly annoying to see this sort of thing going on when it could so easily be prevented. Let the war department issue an order putting in Class 1 all men of draft age who unreasonably refuse to work six days each week, and the slackers who are now loafing a third of the time would suddenly find it to their advantage to work regularly.

In this connection it might be well to remind congress that if the draft age were changed so as to include both younger and older men it would be much easier for the government to induce the able-bodied to do their share. If there is anything that will make a lazy man work it is the fear of being put in the army, where it sometimes necessary to work twenty-four hours a day.

WHAT ITALY DID

Did Italy save us? asks the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

It is not at all an academic inquiry.

It has bases, and foundations, and facts.

It seems there was a Mr. William Potter, a former ambassador to Italy—how easy it is to forget these notables—on observer, a student. Speaking of a Rotary Club recently he attempted to summarize what Italy had done for the Entente and for America. And it is little short of miraculous.

Let us quote—there is really no other way that is quite as instructive—

"It has always been one of the mysteries of diplomacy why the British Navy did not demobilize after its parade review in the somnolent summer of 1914. In the natural course of events it would have been demobilized and dispersed."

The Germans calculated on that scattering that would send England's Navy into all the Seven Seas, and beyond.

Somehow it didn't happen. The navy hung around.

Why?

Because Italy passed the word.

Because the machinations of Berlin had come to Italy as a warning.

Because, accepting Italy's warning, Britain cruised and kept the seas.

Italy did not have to do this thing.

Italy was a member of the Dreihand.

But she was a member of the defensive only.

She refused to be considered, or accepted, as a member offensive.

And that is the reason why General Wurm seeks a way to the north.

When will Italy get justice?

HOW CAN WE REPAY?

So far as the soldiers themselves are concerned—those who die for us upon the field of battle—we can not repay them for the sacrifice. These is no way can reward the fellow dead out there on the field of battle. We can say nice things about him; we can pay tributes in words to his memory, and tell of his heroic acts. But so far as he is concerned, we can not repay him.

But we can repay for the sacrifice he has made. We can repay others. As Emerson puts it: "In the order of nature we can not render benefits to those from whom we receive them, or only seldom. But the benefit we receive must be rendered again, line for line, deed for deed, cent for cent, to somebody."

We can repay these sacrifices being made for us, by making sacrifice for somebody else. We can repay the dead soldier by looking after his living comrades. We can repay these men in khaki for their heroic work by doing heroic work ourselves for those about us—by contributing our time and money to worthy causes, by dealing justly with the weak and strong. There is a world of work to be done otherwise than in the trenches, and these sacrifices that are being made for us by the fighting men of the nation will not do us any good unless we ourselves make sacrifices.

HEALTH BOARD ORDERS CANNOT BE OBEYED

City Sewer System Is Found to Be Inadequate and Property Owners Are Not Altogether to Blame For Unsanitary Conditions.

City Health Officer Locke and the City Board of Health some several days ago served certain notices upon residents to make certain sanitary improvements in the way of installing sanitary toilets and generally cleaning up their property but these officials have run into something that has stumped them considerably, according to the Health Officer.

Dr. Locke has found that in several of the cases which have had the attention of the Health board that the property owners are not altogether at fault and that they appear to be willing to make certain sanitary improvements but they are unable to do so because of inadequate sewers. This puts the question right back into the hands of the city and the Health Board is powerless to enforce their orders for property owners cannot be forced to do unreasonable or impossible things.

In some instances it has been found that the city sewers have been lost under ground while in other instances the sewers are entirely inadequate to care for the surrounding territories.

Local livery barns were ordered to remove certain unsanitary conditions and on Wednesday Dr. Locke visited the barns and found that all of the owners had complied with the board's orders.

TAX COMMISSIONER GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

County Tax Commissioner Stanley Brady has now settled down to real business in his new office in the county building at Third and Sutton streets and already a number of city residents have called at his office to give in their assessment for this year. Mr. Brady will have one of the biggest jobs an assessor ever undertook in Mason county but the taxpayers will have to come to his office to give in their assessment under the new law. Among other properties that must be taxed under the new state tax law is the whiskey and beer stored and it is understood that there will be quite a bit of this sort of property on the tax duplicates in Mason county this year.

GRAND LODGE MEET MAY BE POSTPONED

War Conditions May Make It Necessary to Call Off State Meeting of Colored Masons Scheduled for Maysville in August.

The annual meeting of the grand lodge of colored Mason of the state of Kentucky which is scheduled to meet in this city during the first week in August may be called off according to information received here recently.

Because of war conditions which have seriously affected everything it is more than likely that the meeting will be postponed for this year. At the present time the various lodges all over the state are voting on the question and as soon as all of the votes are in the decision will be announced.

Members of the local colored Masonic lodge had made extensive preparations for the entertainment of the visitors and it will be quite a disappointment that the lodge will not meet this year.

Because of the very high cost of railroad fares and the general war conditions it is generally expected that when the vote is finally counted it will be unanimously in favor of postponing the annual meeting for this year.

BUSINESS MEN ARE WILLING TO HELP

The business men of Maysville are willing to help in the threshing just begun in Mason county this week if their help is needed and if the labor problem becomes very serious it is likely that some sort of organization will be perfected here so that the business men will be able to help at least one day in the handling of the large crops of grain. So far the farmers think they can handle the situation and it may be that no city men will be needed. In the housing of the tobacco crop here, however, some city men may be used.

VISITORS TO THE CITY SHOWN COURTESY

There were many visitors in the city yesterday to hear the lecture of Irvin Cobb, the great war correspondent, and these visitors were shown every courtesy possible. They were given good seats in the tent and their automobiles were parked on Broadway street while the local people used Main street as a parking place in order not to crowd the visitors. Maysville is glad to have the visitors here for our Chautauqua and we are hoping that they will return in large numbers next year.

What has become of the old-fashioned prohibitionist who gave the merry ha-ha when he aspired to public office?

THE WAR KITCHEN IS APPRECIATED

Demonstrations of the Preparation of War Foods Were Well Attended Despite Other Interests During the Week.

The War Kitchen conducted by the Woman's Committee Council of National Defense in the building at Second and Sutton streets formerly occupied by the Cavendish Five and Ten Cent Store, was a decided success in every respect and the women of this community are very much pleased with what they learned in the kitchen during the few days' demonstrations.

The women coming from the Extension Department of the Kentucky State University worked every day with the housewives of this section and their work will be of great benefit for the women here learned much about the preparation of war foods of all sort.

The baking of war breads without wheat and the use of cottage cheese probably attracted more attention than any of the other demonstrations given and the recipes learned at the War Kitchen will be put into use many times in the future.

At Louisville, Paducah and Lexington War Kitchens are in operation every day and they have become almost indispensable to the women there. It is more than likely that the women demonstrators who accomplished so much in Maysville in this short stay will be asked to return here again in an early date for another demonstration. Had this week's demonstrations not been during the Maysville Chautauqua and Fourth of July week they would have likely been attended by more people.

NO FIREWORKS ON THE FOURTH

For the first time in many many years the Fourth of July passed off without the use of fireworks. In years gone the bursting of firecrackers and the discharge of fireworks at night featured the celebration of the nation's birthday but this year all over the land there was no such waste of ammunition and in Maysville not the report of any discharge was heard all during the day. It was very unusual and no one did not seem like the Fourth of July.

CHURCH NOTICES SHOULD BE IN OFFICE EARLY

The Public Ledger is always glad to furnish space each week for the local church announcements and will carry them in Saturday's issue but the pastors are requested to have their notices in this office as early on Friday as possible to relieve the office of any rush and so that all such matter may be out of the way for the later news later in the day.

PENALTIES IMPOSED BY FOOD ADMINISTRATION FOR TEN-MONTH PERIOD
More than 800 penalties for violation of rules and regulations governing licensed dealers in foodstuffs have been imposed during the past 10 months by the Food Administration. About 150 companies and individuals have been ordered to quit business in licensed commodities for a limited or unlimited period, and over 500 have voluntarily made a money payment, usually to the Red Cross, or have temporarily abstained from doing business, rather than risk calling down more drastic penalties upon their heads.

A vast number of other cases have been disposed of by Federal food administrators in the various States and Territories under the authority of, but without specific appeal to, headquarters at Washington. In a large number of other cases the desired compliance has been secured without penalty. More than 2,500 cases arising out of the shipment of foods and feeds many of them perishable, have been disposed of.

Penalties inflicted from the passage of the food-control act, August 10, 1917, to June 1, 1918, may be summarized as follows:
Unlimited revocations of license, requiring the licensee to abstain from business in all, or in specified, licensed commodities until further notice, 65, of which 56 are outstanding.
Limited revocations, requiring licensee to abstain from business in all, or in specified, licensed commodities for a definite period, 62, of which 19 are outstanding.

Unlimited unfair orders, directing licensees until further notice not to sell any, or specified, licensed commodities to unlicensed dealers who have engaged in unfair or wasteful practices, 8, of which 3 are outstanding.

Limited unfair orders, of the same effect as those last mentioned, excepting that the prohibition is for a limited period only, 12, of which 9 are outstanding.
Refunds and contributions, consisting of money payments voluntarily made in place of more drastic formal penalties of the above nature, 131.
Temporary suspensions and minor penalties, voluntarily accepted in place of more drastic formal penalties of the above nature, about 375.

Regulations and forced sales, consisting of food commodities disposed of without resort to drastic formal penalties for hoarding, 24.
Stop orders against the issuance of licenses, either pending investigation of alleged violations of undue delay in applying for a license, or a minor and temporary penalty for offenses committed before a license is issued, of which 103 are outstanding.

CLOSE OFFICES OF THE C. & O. AT CINCINNATI
General Manager Stevens and Staff Are Removed to Richmond Headquarters—Yuln Protest by Cincinnati Men.

In spite of strong opposition from the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce, the Coal Exchange and other civic and industrial bodies of the Queen City, the Chesapeake & Ohio offices in the Union Central building will be closed this week and moved to headquarters at Richmond. The Chesapeake & Ohio is the largest feeder of coal in the Cincinnati territory, and the loss of the offices was protested mainly on that account.

Among those affected by the change are General Manager J. P. Stevens, Superintendent of Freight Transportation; F. L. Pindexter, General Agent R. L. Abill and Chief Clerk O. P. Carter.
General Manager Stevens upon his return to Cincinnati from the inspection trip last week, reported the system to be in fine condition, notwithstanding adverse war conditions. He was especially pleased with the movement of coal. The total loadings for the week were 1361 cars, the best week's record for the system.

KENTUCKY BILL IN DOUBT
Frankfort, Ky.—The bill passed by the last Legislature redistricting Kentucky into 100 legislative districts may be invalid. The Tenth Ward in Louisville was omitted from the enrolled bill and inconsistencies are reported with reference to the districts in which the Eleventh and Twelfth Wards in Louisville are located.

The enrolled bill provides that the Thirty-sixth Precinct of the Eleventh Ward and Thirty-second to the Forty-third, inclusive, of the Twelfth Ward shall be a part of the Fifty-first District. It provides that the Fifty-seventh District shall comprise all of the Eleventh Ward, except the Thirty-second to the Forty-third Precinct, inclusive, of the Twelfth Ward, and that the Fifty-eighth District shall embrace all of the Eleventh and Twelfth Wards.

The question is, will the Court read into the Fifty-eighth District the Tenth Ward instead of the Eleventh and Twelfth Wards?

The bill was introduced in the House of Representatives by Thomas Suprier, of Caneyville, who recently was appointed by the State Tax Commission to work for the commission in the automobile department.

Our observation is that when a young man is about to convince his sweetheart that he is unworthy of her she changes the conversation.

THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH STILL EXISTS

Statement Refuting That Kentucky Is Without Board of Health.

Below will be found a statement in answer to one recently made by Dr. Helzer, and bearing on the Board of Health controversy. It is signed by Drs. John G. South, W. W. Richmond, I. A. Shirley and J. N. McCormack, and is as follows:

"The statement which has appeared in some Louisville paper that Kentucky is without a State Board of Health is wholly without foundation. For a great many years, Kentucky has had and now has a State Board of Health which has performed, and is today performing, all of its functions. The suit instituted by Dr. South and his associates on that board to prevent interference by Dr. Helzer and his associates claiming to constitute a State Board of Health, not only does not interfere with the performance of the duties imposed upon the board, but enables the board to perform its duties without interference. The State Board of Health and all its employees are actively engaged in the performance of all duties and responsibilities imposed by law upon them, having loyally and unanimously agreed to continue their service as long as needed. If the defendants have in fact ordered null, telegrams and telephone calls for the State Board of Health to be delivered to them, they have violated the restraining order entered by the Franklin Circuit Court, and are in contempt of court."

"Before the law, under a void section of which they claim to hold, office, became operative an agreement was entered into between the legal representatives of the plaintiffs and of the defendants that a test suit should be instituted and tried out before the effective date of the law. When this suit was prepared, Dr. Helzer and his associates declared to carry out the agreement, the purpose of which was to avoid any inconvenience to the administration of the law. As a result, however, of the restraining order entered by the Franklin Circuit Court, the health laws of the State of Kentucky can and will be enforced without interference, and the life and health of the people of the Commonwealth can and will be properly safeguarded."

"While we are averse to discussing our case in the press in advance of its determination by the courts, we feel that the sensational statements attributed by the press to some of the defendants in the suit justify us in making this statement, inasmuch as the people of the Commonwealth are entitled to know that the laws enacted for their protection will be enforced in the future as in the past."—Bowling Green Times-Journal.

CLOSING LAW IS SUSTAINED
Columbus, Ohio—By refusing a review, the Supreme Court upheld the judgment of Hamilton County Courts, sustaining the validity of an ordinance of the city of Cincinnati, requiring meat markets to remain closed on Sunday, and also the conviction of Charles Berlek and Frank Beel for violating the ordinance. The meat dealers pleaded as an excuse for keeping open on Sundays that they entered to a class of trade that was not able to keep open to preserve meats from Saturday purchases through Sunday.

THRESHING BEGUN IN EARNEST
Threshing has begun in earnest throughout Mason county and although some of the farmers thought that their wheat and rye was still a little too wet it is understood that in most parts of the county the shocks have dried out well and the threshers have started their trip over the county. There are about fourteen threshing outfits in the county and they will take care of the crop here well with little trouble. The labor problem is being well cared for in most sections of the county it is said.

WHAT'S THE REASON?

Many Maysville People in Poor Health Without Knowing the Cause.

There are scores of people who drag out a miserable existence without realizing the cause of their suffering. Day after day they are racked with backache and headache; suffer from nervousness, dizziness, weakness, languor and depression. Perhaps the kidneys have fallen behind in their work of filtering the blood and that may be the root of the trouble. Look to your kidneys, assist them in their work—give them the help they need. You can use no more highly recommended remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills—endorsed by people all over the country and by your neighbors in Maysville.

Mrs. W. A. Schatzmann, 605 East Second Street, says: "From the benefit I have received from Doan's Kidney Pills, which I buy at Chas. L. R. Drug Store, I have every reason to recommend them. Whenever my kidneys have been irregular in action or I have suffered from weakness and lameness in the small of my back, I have used Doan's Kidney Pills. They have always proven sufficient to quickly cure and attack."

Mrs. Schatzmann is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Schatzmann uses—the remedy backed by home testimony, 60c all stores. MISS CURTICE'S WORK IS APPRECIATED

Children Learned to Love the Junior Chautauqua Leader Who Accomplished Much Among Them During Week.

Miss Adabelle Cortice, who has been the Junior Leader during the Maysville Chautauqua just closed, deserves the thanks of the mothers and fathers of this community for the splendid manner in which she handled the Junior Chautauqua. Miss Cortice put in a week's very hard work in training the youngsters and in giving them first-class entertainment.

The Pageant on Thursday night displayed through the children taking part Miss Cortice's wonderful ability at handling the young and in teaching them.

All of the children during the week learned to love her and they were very, very sorry to see her leave.

The work among the children, however, received the attention of several local women who deserve much credit for the accomplishments as shown in the Fourth of July Pageant.

Maysville has never had a Chautauqua during which the boys and girls have more enjoyed themselves and in Chautauqua never closed leaving more with the youngsters of the community than that which closed yesterday.

Miss Margaret J. Murray of Cincinnati, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. O'Donnell of Forest avenue.

AUSTRIAN HAS NOT BEEN PUT IN ANY CLASS

Failure of Young Foreigner to Fill Out and File His Draft Papers Causes His Arrest—Investigation to Follow Today.

Wilhelm Greb, a citizen of Austria-Hungary but who has been in the United States for the past five years, was taken into custody this morning by Officer P. Ryan when he was unable to show his classification card signifying that he had properly filled out his questionnaire and had been classified by his local board.

Greb, who came to this city only a few days ago and who is working as a roofer on the Taylor Tobacco Company's building, has on his person his registration card showing that he is registered in Cleveland, Ohio, at the first military registration but he says he left that city shortly thereafter and had never received any other card or had never been placed in any class under the provisions of the revised law.

He has been in the city of Portsmouth for some time prior to his coming to Maysville and said while there he was brought before the police as a German subject to register under the alien enemy act but he there established his native country as Austria-Hungary and was released.

The young foreigner will be taken by the police before the local board for Mason county this morning where an investigation will be made and some disposition of the case reached.

Families are to purchase same at a rate not to exceed six (6) pounds per person per month, and city customers may buy not to exceed twenty-four (24) pounds, and country customers not to exceed forty-eight (48) pounds, at any one time. SUGAR BUYERS MUST HAVE CERTIFICATES

No Sugar Can Be Sold By Wholesale to Retailers Unless Certificate From Food Administrator Is Produced.

The first definite announcement of the new sugar purchasing requirements were received here yesterday by the M. C. Russell Company, Wholesale Grocers. The order is as follows:

To All Wholesale Grocers in Kentucky:

From this day, and until further notice, it has been forbidden you to sell or to deliver any sugar, except on regular sugar distribution certificates that have been issued from the Sugar Divisions of the States' Food Administration.

These certificates are being issued as rapidly as it is physically possible by these respective offices to the retailers and others entitled to the same, and it is expected that this work will be completed within the next few days.

It is also brought to your attention and to all retailers, jobbers and those who in any way sell sugar, that from this day and until further notice, it is forbidden to sell or to deliver sugar to those holding what is termed "home canning certificates," unless these home canning certificates have been issued by the local County Food Administrators direct to the consumer.

It will be observed that this rule cancels all other home canning certificates.

Kentucky Food Administration,
H. D. NEWCOMB, Sugar Division.
Col. J. Burbour Russell advises all retailers to procure their certificates as early as possible before it is too late.

MAYSVILLE TO HAVE ANOTHER CHAUTAUQUA

Enough Persons Pledge Themselves to Purchase Season Tickets to Assure the Financial Success of a 1919 Chautauqua.

Maysville is assured of a Chautauqua for next summer. The people so appreciated the Chautauqua this year that they pledged themselves to the purchase of more than six hundred season tickets for next season thereby assuring the financial success of a program next season.

The Colt-Alber Chautauqua people furnished Maysville such a fine program this year and the people are so very much pleased with the talent heard that in all probabilities they will be the folks who will get the contract to furnish next year's program.

When the matter of having a Chautauqua next season was first suggested there were many who thought that because of the war there should be no Chautauqua next year but the people demonstrated beyond a doubt that they wanted it returned and have pledged themselves for enough season tickets to assure the guarantors that the meeting will be successful.

Although it looked pretty uncertain during the first few days of this week, the year's Chautauqua was a financial success and a wonderful success in every respect.

NOTICE

Farmers are advised not to sell their wheat at once, as those who do not sell until after the announcement of the new plan which is being developed, will fare better than those who sell under present conditions.

W. D. COCHRAN,
Mason County Food Administrator.

COBB BRINGS GREAT MESSAGE FROM THE FRONT

World's Greatest War Correspondent Tells of Wonderful Experiences at Battle Front and Greatly Pleases Large Audience in Closing Address of 1918 Chautauqua.

A glimpse across a surging winter sea from the deck of the steamer Baltic at the sinking of the Lusitania, the first American Transport sunk by the German submarines; the Germans' charge on the village of Noyon; the destruction of the Belgian village of Louvain; the volunteering of an entire Battalion of 800 American soldiers at the first call for volunteers to go over the top and the retiring of hundreds of thousands of refugees from their despoiled countries, were among the many vivid descriptions of the great war now raging over there given at the Chautauqua tent last night by Irvin S. Cobb, the world's greatest war correspondent. In one of the greatest lectures on the world war that the people of Northeastern Kentucky have yet been privileged to hear.

Two hours before the great Kentucky lecture was scheduled to begin the lecture Beechwood Park was well filled with people who came from all over this section of Kentucky and from Southern Ohio and an hour before the lecture began no seat in the big tent could be found.

To say that Mr. Cobb's lecture pleased would be putting it too mild. The lecture was by far the biggest feature of Chautauqua week and was worth more than the amount charged for an entire season ticket.

From the time the great journalist mounted the stage being introduced by Mr. Colt, general manager of the Colt-Alber Chautauqua company, he held his audience with descriptions of what he had seen on the fighting front in France and Flanders as only Irvin Cobb could do and just to make the lecture sound like Cobb, the humorist, as well as Cobb, the reporter, he threw into it some of his wit which always went for a hearty round of laughs and brought forth loud applause.

As the first part of his lecture Mr. Cobb told something about his first trip to the war front in 1914 when he with a party of four other war correspondents had some very strenuous times in seeing the war at first hand and were taken prisoner finally by the Germans to be turned free again after a few days and welcomed to the German fighting front for some time where he learned much about the present day system of fighting.

The second part of the lecture was given over to his recent trip to the Western front and in this part of the lecture he came nearer home. He told of the wonderful courage of the American soldiers at the front and told some interesting incidents which will live for a long time in the minds of those who were fortunate enough to hear him. He took special care to praise those men who make up the ammunition trains of our army and was loud in his praise of the colored American troopers who have been giving such a fine account of themselves during the fighting now in progress.

Wonderful were his many experiences in the war zone and interesting have been his accounts of those experiences published in the newspapers and magazines but it takes Cobb himself to tell the story and those who heard him last night know more about what is going on over in northern France than they could have learned in most any other way.

The Castle Court Singers gave a very beautiful program of English songs in costume preceding Mr. Cobb's lecture. They are high class musicians and their program last night went big with the audience, being called back on several numbers.

As an added and unexpected feature of the last night's program Mr. Colt, general manager of the Colt-Alber Chautauqua Company, gave a short talk to the large audience. Mr. Colt and his company deserve the thanks of the people of this section for such a fine week's program. Many think it the best Chautauqua program Maysville has ever had. At any rate it has been first-class in every respect and the people of Maysville and community have been made better for its coming, therefore it has been well worth while.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Mrs. Louisa Boggs, of Third and Walnut streets, celebrated her eightieth birthday anniversary July 5, in an unexpected, but very pleasant manner. About twenty of her children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, and other relatives, dropped in, bringing with them all sorts of good things to eat. Two dining tables were spread, the hostess and her five children being seated at one, the remainder of the company at the other. What followed for the next half hour or so is too well understood to need a description. Every member of five families was present, being reminded of the Thanksgiving day reunions that this family has observed for years. Every one present enjoyed the occasion immensely, and it is hoped that the Gracious Master, in His goodness, may see fit to permit them to enjoy many more similar reunions.

FIRST TRIAL UNDER NEW VAGRANCY LAW

W. A. Gates Is Found a Vagrant and Will Work Sixty Days For County and Pay Twenty Dollar Fine.

W. A. Gates, residence everywhere and occupation mostly nothing, was the first man to be arrested in Mason county under the new state vagrancy law and drew the handsome prize of twenty dollar fine and sixty days at hard labor in the local Police Court yesterday afternoon.

Gates was arrested Thursday night at the local wharf boat by police after much complaint had been made against his loafing about the river front for the past several weeks.

In Police Court yesterday afternoon he denied vigorously that he was a vagrant but allowing him to take each day separately and state the number of hours he had worked for the past week, Judge Whitaker figured that he had worked but twelve hours during the entire week while the new state law requires that one shall do at least thirty-six hours work each week if they are able bodied and between the ages of 16 and 60.

Gates for several years, according to his testimony, has been a deck hand on river boats and got off a boat here about four weeks ago to become night watchman at the local wharf. He only held that job for a week, however and since that time he has been doing mostly nothing.

Although this is the first prosecution under the new compulsory work law, the local officials promise that it will be rigidly enforced and every person able to do an honest day's work will have to do it for men are being begged to work here. One policeman on the witness stand yesterday said that farmers were coming to Maysville most every night and begging men in return with them to the farm to work in the harvest fields.
